The ultra-compact MICROMON MA400 is the ideal personal monitor mixer for the performer who is always asking for “more me.” Featuring a flexible Mic In and Mic Thru connectors and Ground Lift switch, as well as stereo Monitor input with a dedicated Monitor Level control and Mono/Stereo switch, the MA400 has everything you need to satisfy even the most-demanding performer on stage.

Connections

The MA400 features XLR Thru jacks and provides superb noise-free operation. Just connect to the Mic Input and send a line from the Mic Thru to your main mixer. You can even use studio-grade condenser mics, as the MA400 will pass +48 V phantom power, if your mixer is so equipped. The Phones jacks accept both ¼" and ⅛" headphone and earbud connections, making the MA400 ideal for hardwired IEM (in-ear-monitor) applications, such as singing drummers and keyboardists. The MA400 comes with a dedicated 12 V DC power supply and an LED to indicate when it is powered up.

MICROMON MA400

Ultra-Compact Monitor Headphone Amplifier

Masterful Monitor Mixing

Capable of either stereo or mono operation, the MA400 is a powerful little mixer that allows you to control two independent sources, such as a microphone and the monitor feed from your main mixer. Simply adjust the MA400's Monitor Level control to a comfortable setting – and then dial in all the "me" you want with the Mic Level control.

Small and Superb

The MA400 is an ideal cure for the "more me" syndrome – both onstage and in the studio. With its flexible routing options and a high-powered headphone output – the MA400 makes an excellent studio tool. Small enough to fit in your pocket with a price tag to match! Check out the MICROMON MA400 at your BEHRINGER dealer, or get yours online today – everyone in the band will thank you!
